IMPORTANT DECISION BY SUPREME COURT JUSTICE IN NEW YORK STATE.

Directors of Racing Associations Absolved From Liability for Betting Carried on Without Their Personal Knowledge—Decision Frees Paul Shane.

New York, October 15.—Justice Townsend Scudder of the Supreme Court, Nassau County, handed down a decision last Saturday which opens the way for a general revival of thoroughbred racing in New York State.

This was in the long-delayed case of Paul Shane, who was arrested on June 6 last at a meeting of the United Hunt's Racing Association at Belmont Park Terminal, charged with the crime of bookmaking.

Shane was held for examination by Justice of the Peace Charles F. Gittens of Hempstead, L. I. But before his case was called Surrogate John J. Graham, counsel for the defendant, obtained a writ of habeas corpus, which was made returnable immediately, and argued that same day before Justice Scudder.

Mr. Graham and Assistant District Attorney Charles T. McCarthy submitted briefs. A speedy determination of the case was held up by the request of Senator Marcus, counsel for the Society for the Prevention of Crime, for permission to submit a brief, which was granted.

The matter was of paramount importance for the reason that it involved not only the directors of the United Hunt's Racing Association but also the directors of the Belmont Park Racing Association, owners and lessors of the property at Belmont Park Terminal.

The decision of Justice Scudder orders the release of Paul Shane, who had been placed in the custody of his counsel, and absolves all the directors concerned of any responsibility for his acts or for the acts of any person arrested under the same circumstances.

The precedent established is of the utmost value to the racing interests, since it falls to the lot of individuals to bet privately on a racetrack, where betting is not carried on with paraphernalia and as a business.

The court says that the information lodged against Shane before the Justice of the Peace insufficiently charges the commission of the crime of bookmaking, or "with or without writing," under Section 986 of the Penal Law as amended by L. 1910, c. 488, which in substance alleges that the defendant unlawfully, wilfully and privately made several bets orally and without writing, but that a memorandum of each of the bets was prepared by the opposite party thereto and shown the defendant.

"Such an information fails to set forth the chief elements of the crime of bookmaking as defined by the courts in other things; it fails to charge the defendant with the public quoting and offering of odds; with the soliciting of bets; with inducing the public to take chances with him in any scheme of odds, and with effecting through his methods any passing of money on property." Shane had present as a spectator. According to a deposition by Deputy Sheriff Michael Williams, who made the arrest, the defendant was walking around the grounds and making oral bets with various persons, who handed him a memorandum of each wager.

The decision of Justice Scudder cites an opinion of the Court of Appeals in the Lichtenstein case before the words "with or without writing" were read into the present statute. That case was decided in favor of the defendant. Justice Scudder says that the substitution of the state forbids bookmaking, but does not define the term. Neither does the amended statute define it.

In trying to get at the intent of the Legislature, Justice Scudder cites the Lambrick case, in which Justice Cullen interpreting Section 986, before its amendment as being aimed at public gambling, professional gamblers and the maintenance of gambling houses, which alone have been subject to the penalties of the criminal law.

Shane was not charged with public gambling, but, on the contrary, it is alleged that he "did privately make several bets."

The information also failed to allege that Shane was one "who engages" in making bets—the words used in the statute—which imports a continuity of practice. The court says that engaging in bookmaking is betting, but ordinary betting on a horse race is not a crime.

The Legislature has not made it a crime to bet on horse races and the court is powerless to do so. As to the personal liability of the directors of a racing association the court agrees with the District Attorney that the directors' liability law requires knowledge of the acts constituting the crime on the part of the persons accused, and concludes: "The law will not permit the knowledge of the owner of a racetrack, who has the knowledge of the fact that bookmaking (not ordinary betting) is going on upon his premises."

The court mildly rebuked the Society for the Prevention of Crime, whose brief expressed no doubt that the whole case against Shane was collusive.

In holding that he could not be held guilty of conviction in violation of the law unless they have positive knowledge that bookmaking is being carried on in the race track, the court under their superior and not ordinary particular to state that the directors before they can be assumed to have any knowledge of violation of the law.

What killed racing in New York was the provision of the law which made the owners and directors of race tracks and racing associations criminally liable for violations of the anti-betting law on the premises under their control. This impelled wealthy racetrack men to abandon the sport, as they did not wish to risk imprisonment.

If Justice Scudder's contention that the owners and directors cannot be charged with responsibility for the acts of persons making bets on a horse race, and that bookmaking is upheld, there now appears to be a chance for reopening the race tracks in New York State that have been idle since September, 1910.

SUPERSTITION IN WINNING FORM.

Veteran Campaigner Takes Selling Handicap in Fast Time at Laurel.

Baltimore, Md., October 15.—Superstition, the seven-year-old son of Aldine and Evangeline Cisneros, won the mile and a sixteenth selling handicap, which served as the feature race of weight to most gram this afternoon. Made all of his own pace of the five other starters, made all of his own pace and won in a canter by three lengths. Butwell had him in hand during most of the trip, but the pace was fast from the start and at no part of the run was there any doubt. The fractional time of the race was 23.9%, 47%, 1:12.3%, 1:38.4%, 1:45.5%.

The card was made up of a series of selling races and a majority of them furnished interesting contests. El Oro, Afterglow and Superstition were win-

REVIVAL OF CHICAGO RACING TO BE CONSUMMATED TODAY

Formerly only second to New York as a racing center, it is now a matter of six years since Chicago has numbered each of its open air diversions of each spring, summer and autumn. Due to the enterprise of some good citizens of the neighboring State of Indiana, there is to be a resumption of the sport within easy traveling distance of Chicago today. Unquestionably there are thousands here who delight in racing and will give their hearty support to the new venture.

While long prior to 1884 there was racing over Chicago tracks, it was the inaugural meeting at Washington Park in that year, which placed the sport in its best state here. By year after year towards the American Derby grew in importance, value and popularity, until it was easily the foremost annual event for three-year-olds of this country and an advertisement of the greatness and enterprise of Chicago of estimating and benefit to this city. When Washington Park racing was at the height of its prosperity and popularity it was a magnet that annually attracted thousands of summer tourists of wealth to abide here for a space, to the financial profit of Chicago's merchants, hotels, restaurants and other lines—a great city's pursuits. On an occasion arising out of Chicago's eminent merchants gave it as his careful estimate that State street merchants alone annually sold not less than $800,000 worth of goods because of the fashionable display and a quite conservative estimate to say that the abolishment of racing here has caused the loss of not less than $5,000,000 per annum to Chicago tradesmen of one sort and another.

The sport was immensely popular here and in its best days attracted great daily attendance. American Derby day stood by itself and authentically was patronized by attendance larger than witnessed the running of any other race in the United States. But aside from this event the attendance at Washington Park, Hawthorne, Harlem and other tracks was so great as to assure almost unbounded prosperity to the various local racing organizations. The racing was of the highest class and embellished with great performances by such equine celebrities as Modesty, General Moore, Volante, Emperor of Norfolk, Yo Fambien, Kingston, Marion C., Morelo, Rudolph, Spokane, Proctor Knott, Domino, Los Angeles, Strathmore, Boundless, Rey el Santa Anita, Pink Coat, Sidney Lucas, Clifford, Santiago, The Picket, Highball, Robert Waddell, Favor, Dick Welles, Tokalon, Cadmanace by Light, and El Rio Rey, Curt Gunn, (now Locolat-chie, and sire of Sotenila), Balgown, G. W. Johnson, English Lad, Kingman, King Lee, Savable, Maid Marian, Vassal, Abe Frank, Boatman, Joe Cotton, Montrose, Verge d'Or, Aloha, Goodrich, Advance, Guard, McChesney, Lucky B., Teuton, Ban Chief, Van Burch, Algol, The Roman, Hypocrite, Maori, Racine, Argregor, John Bright, Spalding, Lizzie Dwyer, Tom Mart, Kaloolah, Pessara, Cash Day, Allan-a-Dale, Wadsworth, Roy S., Six Shooter, Runnels, Huron, Macy, Bump, Sam Phillips and a host of other shining stars of the track. Assuredly Chicago patrons of the turf were given the best that was to be had in the way of fleet horses striving in noble competitions.

It is not to be expected that the best horses of the present day will be in action in this first meeting over the new Indiana track. But fairly good horses will be there in abundance and cannot fail to afford pleasing racing. If the meeting in its results comes up to the expectation of its promoters, there will be a different story to tell next year. In that event there will be an additional well-appointed track in Lake County, closer to Chicago, and a list of stakes for each track will be proffered next spring that will be bound to bring the best horses in western training to the Indiana meetings. At least two of these covering thirty racing days will take place when the Kentucky spring and early summer campaign is over and will provide the only midsummer racing of the central west. This is an important consideration and if values provided in the stakes and purses are what they should be, this period should prove immensely profitable to the stockholders of the two tracks. People who go to the Porter track now cannot expect to find the accommodations of a Washington Park or Harlem. But they will find a plant of great possibilities for the care and good enough to meet present conditions. Lovers of the sport will be content to avail themselves of such conveniences as have been provided, feeling compensated for any seeming deficiencies by the pleasure of once more viewing the graceful and grand thoroughbred in action.

The postponement of the opening from last Saturday until today was fortunate in that it seems to assure the inauguration of Porter racing in pleasant weather and over a safe track that is sure to be an extremely fast one when well beaten down by the impact of the horses' feet.

The opening day's card is of a calibre that ensures interesting contests. There appears to be abundant material for contention in all the races. The track itself is in good condition. A steam roller has been employed in going over it during the past few days with good results. Its condition may be judged from the fact that Rostertium and Nash Cash worked a half in :50.9 over it yesterday.

While the plant is still lacking in some things that will be attended to later on, everything essential for the opening is in place.

The opening races will be run at 2 o'clock each day. The first of the special trains to the track over the Lake Shore railroad will leave the La Salle Street Station in this city at 12 o'clock noon.

Some changes have been made in the personnel of the officials and the complete roster will be as follows: Presiding judge, J. R. Malone; associate judge, C. C. Riley; starter, Richard Dwyer; presiding steward, W. E. Norvell; associate steward, John I. Day; racing secretary and handicapper, J. S. Wallace; clerk of the scales, Henry F. Moore.

Today's principal race is an $800 all-aged handicap, distance three-quarters of a mile. The rest of the card is made up two $500 purses and three of $400.

The jockeys on hand include E. Griffin, Warrington, C. Aker, Jensen, Woods, Robbins, Denner, M. George, P. Elliott, Musgrave, Skirvin, G. W. Carroll and Mondou.

Effendi, which is among the horses named to start today, will race in the colors of T. W. Flynn.

Trainer John Lewis arrived yesterday from Canada with First Aid and Live Wire.

The program for the rest of the present week is made up mostly of $500 purses, with one race of greater value provided daily. An $800 handicap is to be run on Saturday and there are to be several $600 purses.

OUTSIDERS MAKE CLEAN SWEEP OF THE CHURCHILL DOWNS CARD.

Reciprocity Is Returned Winner of Chief Race—Lockland, Trojan Belle, Sureget, Joe Deibold, Sea Cliff and Jenny Geddes Beaten Choices.

Louisville, Ky., October 15.—Today's ordinary and difficult card was so puzzling that the public went completely astray in their calculations. Outsiders took at the purses. The disappointments began when Lockland failed in the opener and continued when Trojan Belle, Sureget, Joe Deibold, Sea Cliff and Jenny Geddes were beaten. Trojan Belle, Joe Deibold and Sea Cliff managed to finish second.

The victories of Reciprocity and Carpathia were not generally anticipated. Both won handsily and showed improved form as compared with former essays. Another that made an improved showing was Patruche. The change from Motesworth's listless handling to the hustling activity of Burton worked wonders in his case and he won with ease.

One of the best finishes seen during the meeting came in the closing dash when five of the starters were closely grouped. Cliftonian was in the van, with Feather Duster and Flying Foot third. The entire field with the exception of Carlton Club, ran in close alignment all the way. After the finish W. H. Baker, acting for Adair & Baker, bid up the winner to $1,400, an advance of $700 over his entered price, and secured him.

There was a wild plunge on J. B. Respass' Dick Welles—Mildred Love colt, Lockland, which was making his initial appearance under colors. He was in with an ordinary band in the opening dash, but his entered price, and secured him.

There was a wild plunge on J. B. Respass' Dick Welles—Mildred Love colt, Lockland, which was making his initial appearance under colors. He was in with an ordinary band in the opening dash, but his entered price, and secured him.

Sprightly Miss was an easy winner, with the long shot, King Stalwart, in second place.

Jockey Steele came into the limelight during the afternoon by piloting three winners. He inaugurated his victories on Carpathia and followed with Cash on Delivery and Reciprocity. In handling the latter two, he used good judgment.

After the finish of the third race, won by Cash on Delivery, claims were put in by Adair & Baker and R. E. Carman for Merry Lad, which had finished second. Adair & Baker got him for $1,125.

Manager Mack, which contributed to Sotemia's record-breaking performance by forcing a fast pace for the first three miles, was the first of those starting in that race to resume racing. He ran today in the colors of a sixteenth and showed a good effort, though failing to get any portion of the purse.

S. C. Lyne sold the two-year-old Stockel to J. L. Watkins at private terms during the day. He will be trained by J. C. Gallaher.

The entire string of racers owned by R. J. Mackenzie will be shipped on Monday next to Juarez, Mex., to be rested until the opening of the 100-days' meeting there. Jack Adkins, who has charge of the stable, will go to California to take up about twenty-eight head of racers of all ages that he will try out at Juarez.

Arrangements have been made by General Manager John Hachmeister of Latonia to have the different railroads here run excursion trains to Latonia for the opening day.

The advance shipments for Latonia began today, and during the next three days there will be constant transfers of horses to the Milldale track. All the big stables here, with few exceptions, will engage in the racing at Latonia.

Today's attendance was no far short of the record for an ordinary day. The betting was also heavy, going well over $86,000.

James P. Ross came over from Lexington to witness the running of his filly Carpathia.

Among the best works this morning were: Benanet—Three-quarters in 1:15. Busy—Half mile in 55. Colonel Holloway—Three-quarters in 1:18.3. Follie Levy—Three-quarters in 1:18.3. Gardener—Three-quarters in 1:17. Golden—Seven-eighths in 1:32.3. High Private—Three-eighths in 36. Iniqueta—Half mile in 50.2. John D. Wakefield—Three-quarters in 1:19.4. Lodon—Half mile in 50.7. Maizie Girl—Three-quarters in 1:22. Nobby—Half mile in 48.2. Pop Gun—Five-eighths in 1:02.2. Shirley O.—Mile in 1:45.2. World's Wonder—Half mile in 51.2.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

T. C. McDowell has decided to race his horses at Norfolk.

Charlie Hayes, one of the old guard of bookmakers, died last Sunday in Philadelphia as the result of an operation. Mr. Hayes was noted for his quiet manner and politeness, and was much respected by the public and his fellow layers. His last appearance on the block was during the late Havre de Grace meeting.

William Edward Coburn, a former jockey who was widely known as "Monk" Coburn, died in San Francisco Monday from tuberculosis. He earned a fortune while riding successfully, but he spent his money as fast as he earned it, and when he became too heavy to ride he had practically nothing left. Coburn was a skillful jockey and some of his most brilliant riding took place over Chicago tracks.

The Pimlico books are out for the ten-days meeting which begins November 1. As usual, cross-country events are well featured and a steeplechase is provided for each day. A special feature will be the Glenmore Selling Stakes, one-mile heats, to be run November 9. It has been a long time since heat races have been run in America. The Bowie Handicap, two miles, will be run on the last day of the meeting.
